ELECTION WINNER DON TANNER WATCHES GROUP III OPPONENTS ...O'Neal Walker and Woodrow O'Neal shake hands before beginning runoff battle

Walker and O'Neal in runoff

Cox, Tanner win in South Bay

SOUTH BAY—First term incumbent Don Tanner won a slim three-vote victory in the City Commission election Tuesday as Vernita Cox also retained her seat and incumbent O'Neal Walker was thrown into a runoff against former commissioner Woodrow O'Neal.

Tanner was only able to stave off defeat after the absentee ballots were counted. He was lagging 20 years old political tyro Thomas Adams by six votes on the two machines used to tally election results along with the primary election.

Adams led the voting on both machines by scores of 52-58 and 59-91 but when the 14 absentee ballots were counted, Tanner had picked up 11 votes to Adams' two. City Clerk Virginia Walker said one of the 14 had been discounted because it had been improperly filled out.

In the three-way Group Three race, former commissioner Woodrow O'Neal led the balloting with 171 votes. Incumbent O'Neal Walker trailed him with 164 votes and Charlie Reese, who has never held political office but who ran for office last year, was eliminated after picking up 94 votes.

Glades votes for area residents

If Glades voters accented the rest of the state in the U.S. Senate race by turning out overwhelmingly for Belle Glade physician John Grady, they showed distinct turn-arounds in other races critical to the area.

One of the lighter moments in the television coverage of the election was when one telecaster commented, on hearing of the lead built by Mrs. Elizabeth "Betty" Jordan in the District Five County Commission race, "Looks like she had quite a turnout in the Glades."

Mrs. Jordan counted a total of 99 votes in the O'Neal and Walker will settle the race in a runoff election next Tuesday.

In the Group One race, two-term veteran Vernita Cox easily outdistanced former commissioner Howell Goodbread with a 236-150 vote lead.

Tanner said after the results had been tabulated that he believed he won the election on the strength of absentee ballots he had argued three friends, two of whom were out of town and one of whom was in the hospital the day of the election, to file.

He said two of those friends weren't aware of how to apply for or fill out absentee ballots.

Election officials reported no difficulties during the election, although the primary election for those who live outside the city, only registered a total of 19 votes for the day-long voting.

Counting the 14 absentee ballots, a total of 532 votes were cast in the precinct, 54.3 per cent of the 980 registered there.

Grear is 'sick of harassment'

City to terminate Knoblock contract

A halt will be called this week to a controversial agreement between the City of Belle Glade and former city manager George Knoblock, according to Mayor William Grear, who said he is "sick and tired of the harassment" he has been receiving.

Grear said Tuesday he had City Clerk June Boglioli poll the commissioners on the question. Mrs. Boglioli said Wednesday she contacted all the commissioners but Kenneth Harris last Thursday. She said she has still been unable to contact Harris.

"I'm just sick and tired of all the lies that have been told," Grear said in explaining his decision, "and all the harassment I've been getting, as well as the harassment Tom and Ralph (Commissioners Altman and Kirk) have been getting."

The arrangement in question is that when Knoblock resigned his position on June 2, effective July 2, he (Grear) asked Knoblock if he would be interested in being retained by the city as a consultant to handle several specific programs until a new city manager is hired.

Knoblock agreed to the arrangement and Grear, Altman and Kirk decided during a workshop session to direct City Attorney John Baker to draw up an agreement.

Commissioners Aubrey Farmer and Kenneth Harris were out of town at the time of that workshop but both expressed opposition to the move. The agreement was actually authorized during a later special session. Harris was again out of town and Farmer was reported as being in town but that he would be "wasting my time" to attend that meeting.

Farmer and Harris have consistently opposed the move and at least two candidates opposing Altman and Kirk in the city election coming up Tuesday have injected the matter into their political campaigns.

One of those candidates has referred to the special session as "backroom politics," although the time and purpose of the special session was announced in a regular session beforehand.

Grear said Tuesday he has consulted with George Gartner, head of the city's Community Development Program, and Gartner assured him the CDP has been gotten off the ground for the year lead from Knoblock.

Grear said he intended to talk to Acting City Manager Frank Anderson and have him notify Knoblock so Knoblock could brief him on his progress to date.

Both Anderson and Knoblock said Wednesday morning they hadn't heard about the proposal.

Grear said once he felt Anderson could handle the termination administratively but when reminded Knoblock's agreement had been specifically authorized by the commission, said official action may need to be taken.

Knoblock said that as far as he is concerned, there is no need for the city to terminate him; that all Grear has to do is notify him of the commission's desires and he would send a letter to the commission immediately to that effect.

"There'll be no hard feelings on my part, if that's what the commission wants," Knoblock said in a telephone interview at his Pasco County home.

"The agreement certainly doesn't represent an income of any consequence to me."

Knoblock said he believes the city benefitted far more than he did from the agreement, citing benefits totalling $50,000 accruing to the city from a single agreement he had negotiated with Palm Beach Junior College.

He said that at the time he was notified by The Herald of commission's intent, he was working on getting the Palm Beach County Health Department to allow further hookups on the city's sewage system.

"But after I've heard this," he said, "maybe I'd better hold off and contact the mayor" to see if he could continue his attempts.

One of the controversies which has arisen since the agreement was signed was the amount of expenses Knoblock submitted in his first bill to the city.

"I feel I'm above quibbling over expenses," he said. "So far as I'm concerned, if they feel the expenses are unjustified, I'll deduct that amount and walk away from it."

"I certainly feel that far more benefits have accrued to the city than I could ever be paid for," he said.

Master's degrees offered by FAU

Teachers living in communities west of Palm Beach will now have an opportunity to work toward a master's degree in school administration and supervision without setting foot on Florida Atlantic University's Boca Raton campus.

"Beginning this month," said Dr. Dan Weppner, assistant professor of education in FAU's college of education, "we will offer courses in Belle Glade which permit teachers from as far away as LaBelle, Moore Haven, Clewiston and Pahokee to work out a complete ten-course master's degree program."

"Some people, if they stay with it," Weppner said, "could get a degree in Belle Glade without ever coming on the campus."

The first course, EDAS 632 "Leadership," will be directed by Dr. Donald MacKenzie, associate director of the Center for Community Education. Classes will meet Tuesdays from 4:30 to 8:20 p.m., beginning Sept. 21, at Governor Elementary School at 900 S.E. Ave. G.

Courses offered in the program can also be used as an elective for other master's programs according to Dr. Weppner.

Fee for the class is $110. Registration can be made at the first or second session (Sept. 21 or 28).

What makes candidates run?

All six candidates running for the two Belle Glade City Commission seats in the Sept. 14 election answered the question to the candidates sponsored the second year by The Belle Glade Herald.

The Herald is asking candidates to answer specific questions each week in an effort to bring the issues before the voters who will go to the polls to decide the election.

The questions being asked this week are:

Why are you running for the City Commission? What are your qualifications? Why should the voters choose you over your opponent?

The answers are printed, alphabetically and by groups.

GROUP ONE

Thomas Altman
I am running for the City Commission because I think it is important that we have a fair and progressive city government. I feel that I have provided these characteristics to the City Commission during my first two year term.

I feel my qualifications are: 1. Twenty years living in Belle Glade and with her people; 2. Formal education; 3. Two years experience working within the City's administration, becoming involved with every element of the city government at a level much more detailed than most commissioners or prospective commissioners ever get involved; 4. Two years experience as a City Commissioner, involved in practical politics and the difficulties of getting ideas transformed into action, and; 5. An honest, open and optimistic attitude concerning the relationship between people and their city government.

My hope is that the voters will choose me in this election as a way of saying that I did a good job the past two years. I certainly have tried to do a good job. I have been an independent thinker. I have asked questions, when I thought they needed asking. I have challenged things when I thought they were wrong. These things have irritated some of the traditional "political powers" in Belle Glade but I feel it has been healthy for the community as a whole. Having voted on over 2,000 items in the past two years, I realize that I could not be right on all of them.

However, my opponent has offered an alternative, as I have taken. He speaks only in broad terms that the City Commission should not be based on honest, open debate of issues, with each side presenting its strongest argument. Only then do we know that the results of the best thinking we have to offer.

E. R. "Skipper" Bowles
During the past six or eight years, I have become more aware of the problems of Belle Glade. The same problems we have now are the same as we had then. There is no reason why these problems shouldn't have already been corrected. I am just fed up with candidates talking about problem areas we have and then when they become a commissioner, all they still do is talk, then when it is time for re-election they are still talking about the same problems. I feel it's time the citizens of Belle Glade got a door and not a talker in the city commission.

My qualifications are: I am a family man with three children who will grow up in Belle Glade; a successful business man for the past 11 years; a home owner and taxpayer; a 20-year resident and a concerned citizen who is proud to call Belle Glade home and who is willing to provide my time and ability to help solve the problems of Belle Glade.

As I stated in an earlier answer, I will take a conservative attitude to the commission, but I will work diligently to have the best thinking we have to offer.

Jaycees join Jerry

Belle Glade Jaycees Tom Terrell, Wayne Mackey and Charles Mann pledged over the telephone during the Jaycees' annual cooperation with the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy telethon Sunday and Monday. The three were among the 20-odd Jaycees who worked to gather some $4,179 in pledges, along with another estimated $2,000 in pledges from local businesses by Jaycee President Charles Heninger. Heninger said the $6,000 in pledges could be compared to the $3,200 gathered locally last year.

Candidate questions

problems of Belle Glade solved as economically and as quickly as possible. I will have no part of indiscriminate spending or back room politics, like voting to accept an employer's resignation then turning right around and voting to rehire the same employee as a consultant at the same hourly pay. This is a waste of tax payer money and an act of unwise decision making. Also there will be no conflict of interest between my personal business and city business.

GROUP TWO

David Day
1) I'm for proper planning while making decisions in financial affairs for the city. We need aggressive and positive leadership in order that the city might continue to grow. I would encourage greater harmony in the city commission. Local control by the municipal government is a must in order for a city to function properly. My interest in running for the City Commission that I might help all People of Belle Glade.

2) My qualifications are: a) I have worked in personnel and management relations in law enforcement and agriculture here in the Glades.

b) I attended Palm Beach Junior College (1) seminars and workshops, (2) schools (3) On-the-job training in Police Supervision and Leadership.

c) I have worked with the Florida Highway Patrol. I was employed with the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department for 10 years as a deputy sheriff, Road Sergeant and Road Patrol Lieutenant.

d) For over 12 years I have spent working in Public Relations work. I am now working as a Safety and Security Director with Seminole Sugar.

3) I have no other interest but my concern for all the people of Belle Glade. I offer myself as a candidate because I have the time, the willingness and I care about the problems of everyone.

W. R. Kirk

I would hope that everyone could understand that I am running for City Commissioner because there is a job to be done, a responsibility to be met, a challenge to fulfill and one best person to do it. I believe I am the best person. I have served on the City Commission for the last six of my 43 years in Belle Glade. I am proud of the work we have accomplished and sincerely believe I have played a major role in each and every effort. Presently there are several major areas, aside from recreation which we have previously discussed, that I helped to get underway for the City and which I want to carry through to completion. I refer principally to water and sanitary sewer improvements which are so vital to the future of Belle Glade. Also, we are going to have to begin a massive street improvement and re-paving program before much more time has passed. These are only a few of the areas in which I am uniquely qualified to serve in a responsible manner. Unless they are qualified with six years experience I know how to see, where to go and how to get things done without friction. This experience is valuable to the City and I am confident that the voters will recognize it and continue to take advantage of it.

I have been a good, fair and honest City Commissioner and have well represented the community in that capacity. I am prepared and anxious to continue to represent each citizen in a conscientious manner and to carry on the important projects I was so instrumental in getting started.

Jerry Roberts

I am running for City Commissioner because I am concerned about the growth, development and direction of our city. And I feel that with my background and experience, I can be an asset to the city.

Besides having done some studies in the areas of school and city planning, I have also done extensive budget work along with some grant writing. I know the problems of the communities and can propose and produce a reasonable solution with the aid of the other commissioners. I am a people-oriented, patient, fair-minded and a diligent worker.

I do not like to sit in judgment of others, but I feel that my age may serve as an advantage over the other candidates. It seems to be the consensus of the community that the commission, just as any other board, should be integrated with input from out youth. While the youth may not be in a majority, it is a wholesome practice to have that input and pulse check on the thoughts of our future leaders.

Roe Steele

I am running for the office of City Commissioner because I care about Belle Glade and its future. I have lived in Belle Glade for the past 25 years and have operated a successful business during this time. I am a graduate of OMI. I have 40 years experience. I am an active member of the First Baptist Church, the Masons, Civitan and the Elks Club.

I am qualified in all phases of construction and feel this experience will be beneficial to the future planning and development of the City of Belle Glade. I feel I can devote the amount of time needed to the City's business. The affairs of our City should be handled as an independent business and who other than a successful businessman is best qualified?

Belle Glade resident, won a runoff seat against West Palm Beach-based Sanabury. Sanabury, brother of Palm Beach County Administrator John Sanabury, was the only one of five candidates to hire a public relations firm. He also reported raising and spending the most funds in the race.

Because the school board boundaries have remained the same as the old County Commission district lines, Sanabury, who lives near Military Trail and Belvedere Road, can run to represent every area of the county west of Military Trail.

Compared to Sanabury's relatively slick, professional campaign, Mr. Barton's campaign was run by amateurs on a low budget. She raised $40 compared to Sanabury's $1,680 and reported no expenditures compared to Sanabury's $1,600.

"Isn't that wonderful?" she exclaimed Wednesday morning. "We had virtually no money and only a very small group of friends were working for me. None of us had any experience and it's proven an education." She said she had already received calls from Glades residents indicating support and pledging more funds. "I think the Glades needs representation," she said.

That's why I got into the race in the first place. I think the Glades are unique and we should be a district unto ourselves."

Other issues she mentioned included the need for support by the administration for discipline administered by teachers, the need for fair funding for projects in the Glades; a concern for quality education for all students and a need "to get back to the basics of education, particularly in delinquent schools."

In other races: Riviera Beach Police Chief Boone Darden proved the big vote-getter in the Glades in the sheriff's primary, pulling a total of 817 votes compared to Richard Lopez, the runner-up who will face Darden in a runoff in three weeks. Lopez picked off 574 votes.

As on the county-wide level, incumbent Sheriff William Heidman won in the Glades, but on a much more massive scale, running away from his nearest competitor, Richard P. Wilk, 339-98.

Another county-wide win accented in the Glades was the Republican competition for Post of Palm Beach Group Three, which Belle Glade chiropractor Tom Baker won over Frank W. Randolph, 258-54. He will face Blair J. Cicklin in the Nov. 2 general election.

Picking the right training school

September is the time when many people are thinking about going back to school.

Right now, you may be making a big mistake. You may be about to sign a contract for a home study course or resident, technical or trade course, a proprietary school. And you may be picking the wrong course or the wrong school. You may be picking a course or school that offers little or nothing in terms of your goal-getting a job. And it may be one of the biggest mistakes of your life.

High school drop outs and graduates, veterans, homemakers and service personnel spend close to $2 billion a year on proprietary vocational schools. These people are spending their money to buy the opportunity to improve their skills. And for many of them, this will be their last effort to sharpen or develop marketable skills.

Some of this schooling pays off, in terms of better jobs. But all too often, the money is lost and the opportunity is missed because the prospective student takes the wrong course at the wrong school. He or she ends up paying a lot of money either to drop out of the course, to get a worthless education or to find out the promised jobs are just not available.

So, if you're thinking of job training or a correspondence course, watch out for a salesperson who:

"Claims to be a school counselor or advisor, (ite or she may be only a salesperson whose income depends on a sale to you.)"

"Offers you a special price for a limited time only."

"Says 'sign now-this is your last chance.' (No good school requires that.)"

"Tries to sell you because the school is 'registered,' 'licensed,' 'approved,' or 'accredited.' Those words often mean nothing about how good the school will be for you."

"Promises a fabulous career or a glamorous job."

"Says you can earn large sums of money just by taking this course or going to this school."

"Tells you there are thousands of job openings for someone like you if you take the course."

"Says, 'You have received one of the highest grades ever on the aptitude test.'"

"Offers you a large discount if you pay now."

"Won't let you have time to think it over or won't come back tomorrow."

"Tries to force you to sign before leaving."

Pot Likker

by R. D. Santee

Elno Hackitt is a man after my own heart. He's a born loser. He's a Don Quixote jousting with windmills. A woodcutter trying to fell a mighty redwood with a pen knife.

Elno fight's the "gum'mint". His latest set-to with Uncle Sam concerned forced busing.

"I fought it," he said "but none of their business where my youngin' goes to school. But the Court said you all gonna haf to bus them kids thirty miles one way to another school house! Last May, the bus had a wreck. My boy lost four teeth. I wrote the HEW feller and told him if he's gonna tell me what to do with my youngin' then they should be responsible for the consequences. I sent along the doctor bill. I got it back last month sayin' 'you gotta pay. Busin' is the law'."

"Wrote my Congressman, tol' him not to pass no more laws. Seems ever 'time they give rights to somebody they take away a few of mine. He wrote back and said he had to do his job. Feel like they're up there doin' this and that just fer somethin' to do."

He sighed, "had a run in with Social Security three years ago. Figgered out that all that money I give 'em every week will turn into one heck of a bunch of money by the time I'm retirin' age. Trouble is, from seemin' what my Momma gets ever' month there weren't no way I'd ever git all I put into it. So I wrote 'em a letter. Said I'd put what they usually take out in a bank and let it draw interest and promised 'em I wouldn't touch it 'till I retired. Besides, from what I heard they wasn't usin' the money right no way 'cause they was join bankrupt by the year 2000.

They wrote back and said 'it's the law, you gotta do it.' Ain't never seen such a thing in my life. They can legally take my money and squander it.

"Wrote the IRS!" he continued "told 'em I wanted interest on my tax refund. They've held it fer a year and used it. If somebody's gonna use my money I want interest. They sent a feller out to see me. He audited my tax returns from five years back and decided I owed them more money. Told him I'd pay it if I could tell 'em where and what to spend it on. He had a padlock on my door and my bank account froze before I could draw a breath. He said it's the law!"

"Now I got my youngin' in a private school 'cause the public school was graduatin' kids what couldn't even spell their own name nor read 'dog'. Didn't want to pay no school taxes 'cause I wasn't unin' 'em. They tol'd me you gotta pay. It's the law!"

"You've had quite a hard time of it. 'I sympathized.' I guess you've given up on the government."

"Nop," he replied "I'm movin' to another state. Onliest problem is that it's one of them closed shop places where you don't work lessen you're a union member. Don't work for no union. Work fer the people that signs the pay checks. They can't make me pay union dues if I don't want to."

"You know," I said "what they're going to say don't you?"

"Yep," he answered "they'll say 'that's the law'."

Putrid politics

Ain't politics fun?

One would think that with all the problems facing Belle Glade, enough issues and platforms could be drawn up to provide ammunition for an army of candidates.

It's encouraging to note that issues are being faced by the candidates for the city's election Tuesday and some candidates are even talking to those issues.

But that doesn't seem to be enough. Wander out into the streets of our fair city, or better yet, into any one of several coffee shops, and lo and behold the rumor machines are grinding out the traditional lies and racial slurs we're all so used to.

"If he gets elected, he'll tie up the commission so bad nothing will ever get done." "If those two 'et elected, the three niggers will vote the same way every time."

Recognize 'em? Those two whippers are being repeated all over town, or they were last week, and who knows what vicious lines are being shaken out of the whisper mill this week?

(The interesting thing about that last rumor is that two of the people being referred to are black and one is white. All three are being slandered as "niggers".)

The tragic thing about this garbage is that so many people believe in it. Worse, how can a candidate argue against offal like this? Still worse, it doesn't leave the candidates who are being slurred time to speak to the issues, and if they do, who's going to listen.

Worst of all, recent Belle Glade history proves this kind of warped, yes, even evil, type of campaign works here. Candidates, good candidates, have lost races in recent years because just this kind of smut has been spread all over town.

This kind of political campaign stinks. It's well past time we relegate it to the sewer it came from and get on with the business of running this town.

It's our move, Belle Glade. If we elect any candidate on the strength of rumors being whispered around the coffee shops, we deserve anything he may care to do with the office.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

Got a whale of a tale to tell you lads, though I won't swear it's true. Y'understand this is all fiction now. Not a word of truth to it but seems there was this fresh water shark y'see. Course, everybody knows sharks are salt water critters but this 'un was different.

Decided he'd go swimming right up the canals from the Atlantic Pond and see what things were like in a fair-sized fresh-water lake.

Well, while he was swimming along minding his own business, seems there was this kid with a fishing pole and a bent hook who was minding his own business, shuffling around for specks or bluggins or whatever.

Now, the shark, by this time was getting pretty hungry (there are even some state Marine officers who say there ain't enough chow in this appetit' lake to satisfy the appetites of sharks...even if there are a few 14-foot gators swimming around in it).

Like I said, this five foot version of jaws was beginning to feel faint from not eating when he eye-balled the worm on the end of the kid's line and scarfed up on it, bent safety pin and all.

That's when the lad proved himself a mighty angler indeed and lo and behold, before you knew it, there was a crowd gathered around watching the titanic struggle between the lunge-maddened shark and a cane-pole armed fisherlad.

There was even a local law officer who happened along (mind you now, this is all fiction) who realized the danger to the fisherlad if he had landed said shark and shot 'im right in the head.

Well, you can imagine what happened, even in a myth like this one. What with the crowd and all, somebody got in touch with their favorite newspaper and here come a whole posse of newsmen and photographers to record the event for posterity.

Now, don't let me confuse you folks, cuz I got a little confused myself at this point. Seems there was another story, just as fictitious and full of all kinds of scandalous lies that goes like this.

Seems there was a gent who lived on the shores of a fictitious fresh-water lake (Wonder if it could've been the same one as in the other tale!) who liked to go fishing.

Well, seems this fisherman decided to ply his beloved avocation at another fictitious place called Pine Island, where he caught a five-foot shark.

Never having landed a shark before, this fictitious gentleman carted his catch all the way back to his nice fictitious home on the shores of the fictitious lake to show off to all of his imaginary friends.

Well, to better show off this (this is getting preposterous) catch, our story-book Captain Ahab hung his shark from a tree in his back yard for two days, at the end of which a might odor arose. (Dead fish stink even in storybooks.)

Not wishing to offend his neighbors, our friend hauled his shark down from the tree and transported it to a nearby canal and dumped it in. Onliest trouble, according to this totally fabricated story, the shark hung up on some rocks, giving our hero a great idea for a little fun.

He salpses on back home and called over a neighbor's son and told him if he wanted to get maximum chuckles for a minimum effort, he might get his cane pole out of storage and go down and hook the shark in the mouth, then create a ruckus like he had caught a big fish. So he did that.

Went on down, hooked up the shark as per instructions and started hollering to beat the band. Well, by 'em by, a big crowd is gathered, including a local law enforcement officer who comes by and shoots the living daylight out of this three-day-dead shark...all to the muffled chuckles of the lad.

Course, by this time, such a big crowd has gathered around our fictitious fisherlad that he decides he best not say anything...especially since the aforementioned policeman might get irate and shoot the living daylight out of him too, just to keep the shark company.

Matter of fact, he figgers things have gone so far by now he don't even say anything when everyone exclaims about it when the dead shark grunts when it's finally landed, the crowd thinking it's a dying gasp and him knowing it ain't nothing but escaping gas. (Although there was one wag who commented the fisherlad had caught an oversized Grunt, not a shark!)

Meanwhile, everyone in on the joke, all over our fictitious town, is rolling on the ground they're laughing so hard.

All of which led the local newspaper editor to raise the question, "If you hear two tales and both are supposed to be true, it usually ain't so hard to figure out which is a lie. But when they're both supposed to be lies, it's time to buy an Edsel from Richard Nixon."

Waste water grant awarded IFAS

GAINEVILLE — A $736,350 grant has been awarded to the Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (IFAS) at the University of Florida by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to determine the safety of using treated municipal sewage wastes to irrigate and fertilize farm land.

The waste management research project could change the way cities dispose of treated sewage effluent and sludge, permitting wastes to be spread on farm land and recycled through the "plant-animal-human" food chain. Before land spreading is used on a large scale basis, however, EPA is seeking data on possible dangers posed by heavy metals, viruses and other pathogens in domestic and industrial sewage wastes.

In announcing the three-year grant today (Sept. 3), Dr. Kenneth R. Tefertiller, vice president for agricultural affairs at the UF, said the research will involve 20 scientists in agriculture, environmental engineering and veterinary and human medicine. Total cost of the project is expected to reach

$1.1 million, with the balance coming from state funds. Tefertiller said the EPA grant is one of the largest ever awarded to any university, adding "it is a credit to the broad range of technical expertise assembled in agriculture and other disciplines on the UF campus."

The study begins at a time when many cities are trying to meet tough federal "clean water" standards for the 1980's, according to Dr. John F. Gerber, director of the IFAS Center for Environmental Programs and project coordinator. To comply with these standards, cities must install costly advanced waste water treatment systems or opt for new disposal methods such as land spreading.

"Advanced waste water treatment systems will more than double the cost of disposing of effluent without solving the sludge disposal problem. Raising energy costs make sludge incineration increasingly impractical. Land spreading is a less expensive alternative, solving both liquid and solid disposal problems," Gerber explained.

Land spreading also permits and recovery of valuable nutrients from treated sewage. A population of 10,000 produces about one million gallons of sewage per day (MGD), and the annual value of the nitrogen fertilizer contained in this is estimated to be about $40,000.

Recycling effluent and sludge through pastures is attractive, Gerber pointed out, because the grass constantly absorbs nutrients which can be "harvested" by grazing animals. The nutrients are cycled into plants and animals, and ultimately into the human food chain.

While the use of land spreading is increasing, scientists and public health experts are concerned about potential health risks from heavy metals, viruses and other pathogens in the treated sewage.

Research will be aimed at learning how to manage the effluent and sludge so that animal and human health is not endangered. If we can demonstrate that land spreading is acceptable from an environmental and health standpoint, then the costs for disposing of municipal effluent and sludge can be greatly reduced. In effect, we would then achieve advanced waste treatment by recycling these substances through agricultural systems," Gerber stated.

Principal investigators for the project are Dr. James M. Davidson, professor of soils, and Dr. George T. Edds, professor of veterinary medicine. The 20-member research team will monitor the fate and pathway of heavy metals, pesticides, drugs, viruses and other potentially harmful substances in sewage as they move through the soil into plant and animal systems. Sewage effluent and sludge from treatment plants in Gainesville and Pensacola will be spread on experimental pasture plots near these cities and Live Oak and Ona, Florida. To measure the effects of applying wastes with large concentrations of heavy metals and other harmful substances commonly found in industrial wastes, sludge will be imported from Chicago and similar urban areas for evaluation.

Davidson's research group will apply different concentrations of effluent and sludge to pastures, measuring the extent to which heavy metals, viruses and other materials may contaminate ground water or be absorbed by plants. "We will perform different loading studies to identify those concentrations of effluent and sludge that will be acceptable from an environmental and health standpoint. Since Florida soils are sandy, heavy metals, viruses and other substances can move through the ground more readily," Davidson explained. "If we can prevent treated wastes from entering ground water in our sandy soils, the methods we develop should be useful in many other areas of the nation," he added. "Since municipalities in the state rely on deep wells for their water, it is essential that we make every effort to protect these water supplies."

During the next three years, Edds' research group will conduct a variety of feeding trials with cattle, measuring the extent to which heavy metals, viruses and other substances affect the health of grazing animals. Varying amounts of sludge will also be incorporated directly in the diet of the cattle, swine and poultry to establish safe and toxic exposure levels.

Slag was applied last fall at ten locations across the Glades sugarcane region where response was expected. No sugarcane response to slag has ever been found on cutland apple muck soil. Increased growth is visible in many of the fields where slag was applied and this response is the subject of the discussion and field visit. The Florida Cooperative Extension Service and the University of Florida AREC invited all interested persons to attend, according to Assistant Professor G. Kidder, one of the sugarcane specialists at the center.

The program will begin at 9 a.m. with a presentation by Dr. Gascho in the conference room and the group will then drive to one of the treated fields in the Belle Glade area where slag was applied and growth response is readily visible. The field visit should be completed by 11 a.m.

Sugar seminar set for today

A special half-day seminar to present the results of calcium silicate slag experiments on sugarcane lands will be held at 9 a.m. today in the conference room of the Agricultural Research and Education Center in Belle Glade (AREC).

Until now, there was little you could do but take unripened cane to the mill. Now, there's Polaris® Plant the chemical that stimulates sugar cane ripening. Polaris can increase sucrose levels – in spite of poor ripening conditions such as warm, wet weather.

Polaris is applied about six weeks before harvest. Cane treated with Polaris usually burns better at harvest, resulting in less trash to the mill. What's more, Polaris does not significantly affect cane tonnage, and has no adverse effect on ratoon regrowth.

Find out how Polaris can help you bring better-ripened cane to the mill this harvest. Contact your Monsanto representative or the distributor for Polaris in your area. Call 1-800-444-4444.

Miss Smith becomes bride of Dennis G. Wedgworth

Miss Rebecca Elaine Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barnes Goodman Smith, became the bride of Dennis George Wedgworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wedgworth, at St. John the Apostle Episcopal Church on August 28.

The Rev. J. Robert Pollitt performed the double ring ceremony and Mrs. Joseph Hughes, organist, played a program of nuptial music. The selections were "Pans Angelicus" by Franck, "Dist Du Bei Mir" by J. S. Bach, "Chair De Lune" by Debussy "Moonlight Sonata" by Beethoven, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" by Saint-Saens, Love Theme "Romeo and Juliet" by Tchaikovsky. Their vows were exchanged at the altar where arrangements on each side of the crucifix were yellow fig mums and bells of Ireland.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore her mother's wedding gown of satin, lace and tulle. The lace bodice had long sleeves with covered bottoms of lace. The neckline was round and made with tulle gathered with pearls. The lace extended to the hip line ending in scallops. The satin skirt continued into a cathedral train. She carried a formal cascade of white Tennesse orchids, white miniature orchids. White satin ribbon curls, pearl leaves and string pearls decorated the brides bouquet. The brides' sisters, Cynthia Smith and Mrs. J.

Jeffery Threlkeld, were maid of honor and matron of honor respectively. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Wesley Walker, cousin of the bride, of Auburn, Ala., sisters of the groom, Diane and Deborah Wedgworth. They wore mint green floor length halter dresses with a jacket of sheer polyester with tiny yellow rose buds. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow sweetheart roses, statice, bells of Ireland and yellow satin tubing loops and ribbon. Their hairpieces were yellow satin tubing loops, bells of Ireland and yellow statice.

The best man was George H. Wedgworth, father of the groom, and the ushers were Douglas Wedgworth, brother of the groom; Claron Robertson, Charleston, Ken Sharp, Vail, Colo.; Jim Miller, Augusta, Ga.; Tim McKee, cousin of the groom; John Hill, Gainesville.

The bride's mother wore a satin floor length gown of pink cream and green with a pastel pink chiffon capelet. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue and white polka dot floor length dress with a navy blue chiffon jacket.

Mrs. Ruth Wedgworth, the groom's grandmother, wore an apricot gown with matching chiffon floor length coat. Their corsages were white Callaya orchids. Miss Deborah Williams presided over the guest book and gave the Wedding Bulletin, decorated with a silver wedding cross to guests.

Mrs. John L. Evans, directed the proceedings. The bride's aunts, Mrs. W. Weeks and Mrs. W. H. Prather, greeted the guests at the Civic Center where the reception was held.

The brides table was laid with a white lace trimmed overlay garlanded with yellow bows. The four-tiered wedding cake was the focal point decorated with yellow flowers and green leaves. An open shell with golden wedding rings inside were on the first tier and cherubs playing musical instruments were featured on the second layer. A silver wedding cross topped the third layer, this was the design on the napkins.

Two silver punch bowls were on each side of the cake surrounded by mints, nuts and frosted pecan cuplet cookies. Assisting at the bride's table were Mrs. S. K. Smith, Mrs. Steve Berryhill, Mrs. William Creech, Mrs. Dan Griffin, Mrs. Timothy McKee, and Mrs. Douglas Thompson.

A buffet table was decorated with silver three branch candelabra and the bridesmaids bouquets were laid on the table to complete the decorations. Assisting at the buffet table were Mrs. J. Bowers and Mr. John Robinson, Chapel Hill, N.C.; Mr. Pete Green Salisbury, N.C.; Mr. Dave Margolis, Uniontown, Penn.; Mr. Peter Joseph, Mountain View, Calif.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Nattie Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. John Oetman, Paul and Lynn, Riviera Beach, Miss Carolyn Smith, Mr. Greg McKallip, Miss Barbara Mihm, Mrs. Louise Collins, Mr. and Mrs. John Hill, Miss Kathy Hill, Mr. Alan Hill, Mrs. Edmund M. Use your eyes before you use your ears.

Before you think about putting up your CB base antenna, make sure you've got your signals straight.

To begin with, Citizen Band antennas, unlike TV antennas, are under FCC regulations.

FCC and local rules sometimes differ on the allowable height. So, before erecting your antenna, check with the appropriate authorities.

And when you're ready to put it up, check on one other thing — the clearance. The slightest touch of your antenna or guy wire to a power line could cause you a serious shock.

Here's how to play it safe. Make sure that you check all directions. In other words, not only the space above the antenna but all around. So, if your antenna should happen to fall, it won't happen to fall onto a power line.

How far away is safe? Certainly a distance no less than the height of the mast.

This safety rule not only goes for CB antennas but TV antennas as well. Or any metal pole for that matter.

And here's another word of caution; even when using guy wires to raise or lower your antenna you can't be assured of positive control. So, better double check the clearance. So many people are now tuning into CB that we thought you should also be tuned into the necessary safety requirements.

This safety message has been brought to you by Florida Power and Light as a public service. Because serving the public is really what we're here for.

"War," says a German proverb, "leaves a country with three armies - an army of cripples, an army of mourners, and an army of thieves."

And it does not begin in the hand, but in the heart. It does not end when the guns are silenced, only when the souls are saved by God through Christ.

The Bible asks, "From whence come wars and fighting among you?" come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members?"

What are lusts? Evil desires. A desire is not bad in itself. But when we desire that which is not ours, that which is not lawful for us to have, then that is an evil desire. And man will go to any extreme to satisfy it. Yet in the end he remains unsatisfied.

There was one who lived with those who warred war to satisfy their evil desires. But he said in Psalm 120:7, "I am for peace."

How is one for peace? By being for the Prince of Peace - the Lord Jesus Christ. Peace is not merely something to labor for, but Someone to live for.

A "Young soldier" said to the chaplain, "I guess, sir, we have too much chemistry, and not enough Christ." Do you have Him?

The 1976 edition of the Glades Day Gators

Top offense in 1975

Defense is question mark for Glades Day

The Glades Day School Gators were rated the top offensive and defensive team in Palm Beach County in 1975. A veteran offensive backfield and line will return for the potent Gators this year. However, the defense is another story and that's what concerns head coach Riley Foster.

"The defense will be a question mark," Foster said. "They are young and don't have a lot of experience."

Foster is counting on All-State linebacker Ken Buckner to anchor the Gators' youthful defense. Sophomore Winston Byrd and junior Howard Ayres will join Buckner at the other two linebacker spots. All three have "good quickness", according to Foster.

Terry Carruthers and Curt Thompson will man the defensive end positions.

The nose guard will be Danny Bair, who at 5'10" and 240 pounds, should be able to fill the gap.

The tackles will be senior Oscar Dominguez (6'0", 225) and sophomore Doug Tanner (6'0", 180). David Teets (6'5", 260) and Mark Foster, the coach's brother, will alternate with Dominguez and Tanner.

The defensive backfield will be led by All-State cornerback Danny Kirchman. He will be joined in the secondary by Mitch Crissman, Alberto Rocio and Elmer Miller, a transfer from Glades Central.

Foster said the Gators will do a lot of stunting on defense. He added that they'll use multiple defenses. "We'll try to keep the other team guessing," he said. "We have to out-finesse them, especially the bigger teams," Foster said. Glades Day will probably start out from a basic "5-3" (five linemen, three linebackers) and then shift depending on what the opposition does.

Offensively, Glades Day will run from the "wishbone" attack, according to Foster. "I really like the wishbone," he says. "I wish I was the one that invented it."

Since the "wishbone" emphasizes the run, Foster estimates the Gators will keep the ball on the ground "between 60 and 70 per cent of the time. 'If I could rush the ball every play and never throw it, I'd do it,' he said. Foster said his team will throw the ball "when we have to."

He added, "Our coaching

If you throw the ball three times can happen and two are bad."

Foster said that he'd like to have a more open offense than last year. "We'll try to spread the other team's defense with the wishbone and then throw passes in the flats."

Junior Tommy Duda and senior Jorge Echave are vying for the quarterback spot. Echave was out most of the 1975 season with a neck injury.

In the backfield, Buckner will be at fullback and Crissman and Kirchman are the halfbacks. Crissman and Kirchman are both received All-State honors last year. Crissman rushed for over 1,100 yards and Kirchman gained nearly 800. Junior Larry Fowler will also work as halfback.

Buckner is also the place kicker. He boomed a 46-yard field goal last season. Foster and Buckner's most of his kickoffs in the end zone.

The line will have senior Carlos Cano at center; Teets and young Foster will be at the tackles. Senior Chuck Royal and Scott Fleisauer, a transfer from Naples Lely will be the guards. Curt Thompson will be the tight end.

Junior Dick Crockett will be the wide receiver.

staff looks at the pass this way.

Foster said the offense has been looking "real good". "It is our strong point," he added. "Other team's will have to stop our offense to beat us."

The Gators have 23 returnees from their 1975 district and regional champion team. Glades Day had a 9-3 record last season, losing to Class AAA Jupiter and AA Bishop Verot. The local team was defeated by St. Petersburg Shorecrest in the sectional finals.

If Glades Day is to return to the playoffs in 1976, two things will have to happen, according to Foster. "We'll have to keep the injuries down because a couple of key injuries will hurt us. We'll have to be able to move the ball offensively and score a lot of points," the coach said. "We're anticipating a good season," Foster said. "The kids feel like they can win."

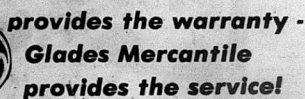

The Gators have beefed up their schedule this season. Only four Class A schools are on the schedule.

"We've got a tough schedule," Foster said. "We felt that our schedule a little too weak and maybe it hurt us during the playoffs."

Glades Day opens its season Saturday night on the road against King's Academy.

Pahokee Plans Return To Playoffs

"I wouldn't come out each day if I didn't think we could win."

Pahokee High School's football team lost nine starters from its 1975 state semi-finalist squad. The Blue Devils have one Class AAAA school and four AAA schools on their 1976 schedule and only four home games. Notwithstanding any unforeseen problems, these two would cause most coaches to go through many sleepless nights. But Devil coach Antoine Russell has a much bigger problem to contend with and that is mental attitude.

"The hardest thing right now is to get our kids in the right mental attitude," Russell said before a recent fall practice. "They'll try to ride on what they did last year."

"What they did last year" was only compile an 11-2, with the lone regular season coming to AAA finalist Delray Atlantic, capture the District 14-AA title and ended up as the state's number one Class AA team.

"This will be a tough year to live up to considering what we did last year," the coach added. "We're going to have to be prepared because a lot of people know what we have done."

Russell has 19 lettermen returning and he says 13 are "real good" players.

The first name Russell mentions when talking about the returning lettermen is Rick Jackson. Jackson (6'3", 198) is a two-year standout for Pahokee. He's probably the best tight end in the county," according to Russell.

"This is his year to be a leader and he has a lot of pressure on him," the coach said.

Jackson also plays defensive end and will anchor the Blue Devils defense. Up front Jackson are Alvin Quinn (5'11", 205) and Bradwell Parchment (6'1", 198) at the tackles, John Pringle (6'1", 170) and Leroy Love (6'0", 185) are working at the other end spot. James Byrd and juniors Lawrence Williams and Jerome Abner will also see action.

Bernard Murvin, Billy Cunningham and sophomore Frank Walker will be the linebackers.

Headed the defensive secondary are senior safety James Burroughs (6'2", 180) and senior cornerback Mike Osbourne (5'11", 160).

"Our defense will depend on who the other team is and what they show us," Russell said. "We'll probably go with a "5-2" against the pass and go to a "6-man front for running teams."

On offense, talented Ronnie Osbourne returns for his sophomore year at quarterback. Leroy Jackson will be back at fullback and Joe Freeman is the tailback.

position.

Chuck Hager will anchor the offensive line at center. Cunningham is the right guard and Quinn and Bradwell are the tackles.

Pahokee will use the triple option again this season. "What ever the opposition has on defense will dictate what we do," Russell said. "We'll probably pass about 50 percent and run about 50 percent of the time."

"If we spot something, we'll change," Russell said the 1976 schedule is a "little tougher" than the Blue Devils had last season. "We don't have a picnic as far as the schedule goes," he said. "We like playing a tough schedule and look for competition. You can't evaluate yourself on poor competition and you're just fooling yourself with a soft schedule."

Although the Blue Devils will be playing a number of young people this season, Russell says his team is in better physical shape.

"If we don't have any major injuries, we should be back in the playoffs," Russell said. "I wouldn't come out each day if I didn't think we could win."

Pahokee kicks off its season on the road Friday night at Suncoast.

The Gator defense limited Coral Shores to 31 yards total offense and intercepted five passes as Glades Day chalked up yet another convincing victory.

Glades Day jumped out to a 7-0 halftime lead and coasted the rest of the way. Bill Thompson scored two touchdowns and Mitch Crissman, Julio Sanchez, Danny Kirchman, John Youngblood, and Brandon Markham added one each in the route. Sanchez added seven extra points. * The Gators totaled 446 yards total offense compared to Coral Shores' 31.

Gators 33-Gold Coast Christian 8

The Gators recorded an easy victory in the Region 6-A playoff game in Fort Lauderdale. Safety Quique Echave intercepted two passes, one setting up a touchdown, to pace the winners. Middle linebacker Bill Thompson also intercepted a pass. Julio Sanchez led all rushers with 76 yards.

St. Pete Shorecrest 38-Gators 3

Shorecrest's John Hendry scored three touchdowns to ruin the Gators dream of a state championship.

Glades Day had rushed for an average of more than 300 yards a game during the regular season, but Shorecrest's defense would not be denied.

The only Gator score came just before the half as Kenny Buckner kicked a 37-yard field goal.

The Year In Review: The Blue Devils Go To

Pahokee's football Blue Devils went to the playoffs for the third time in four years, only to have the Class AA title elude them still another time. PHIS was 11-2 in 1975 with one of the most feared defenses in Palm Beach County. The Devils defense only gave up 94 points, which was the fewest in the Suncoast Conference.

Here is a brief review of last season.

Pahokee 3-Suncoast 7

The Devils used the new penetration system to edge a determined Suncoast team. The game was tied 7-7 at the end of regulation time, but Pahokee was able to penetrate further into Charger territory and thus earn the one-point victory.

When the Devils ground attack failed, quarterback Ted Miller took to the air and connected with end Ricky Jackson on a 24-yard scoring pass.

Pahokee held Suncoast to a 7-yard rushing in the game.

Pahokee 14-Clewiston 6

The Blue Devils and the Tigers battled to a scoreless tie in the first half and then the local time got its offense untracked and went into its second victory of the season.

Remoise Johnson, surrounded by Clewiston defenders grabbed an 11-yard touchdown pass from Ronnie Osbourne for the first score of the game. Leroy Jackson ran for the two-point conversion making the score 8-0.

With 3:22 left in the third quarter defensive end Ricky Jackson intercepted a Tiger pass and rammed 35 yards for Pahokee's second touchdown. The two-point conversion attempt failed.

Clewiston was held to just three first downs by the Devil defense.

Atlantic 28-Pahokee 21

Atlantic took advantage of several Blue Devil mistakes to score 19 points in a 10-minute span and hand the number two ranked Devils their first loss of the season.

The Eagles jumped out to a 19-0 lead before Pahokee could get on the scoreboard. Leroy Jackson scored the Devils first touchdown on a one-yard plunge. The extra point attempt failed.

The Blue Devils narrowed the gap in the second quarter when Terry Smith took a 35-yard pass from Osbourne. Ted Miller booted the extra point and the visitors were right back in the contest.

In the third quarter Jackson snagged a 42-yard touchdown pass from Osbourne and also caught the conversion to give Pahokee the lead. Atlantic came back to score again. The Devils threatened a gain in the fourth quarter but the Eagles broke up several passes to stop the Blue Devils.

Pahokee 28-Bishop Verot 0

The Blue Devils put 20 points on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter and pinned a 28-0 victory on the Vikings to snap a 14-game Verot winning streak.

Pahokee scored with 5:44 seconds left in the first quarter when Osbourne connected with split-end Remoise Johnson on a 25-yard touchdown pass. Charlie McKelton ran the ball for the two-point conversion. The Devils other scores came on 41-yard pass to Leroy Jackson; a one-yard plunge by McKelton and John Pringle's 35-yard run.

Pahokee 25-Leonard 21

Remoise Johnson caught three touchdown passes, recovered a fumble and blocked a punt to lead the Devils to their fourth victory.

Osbourne totaled 148 yards through the air waves. Johnson's touchdown passes covered 63, 12 and 41 yards. John Pringle picked up a Leonard fumble and scored from seven yards out for the Devils final touchdown.

Pahokee 14-Immokalee 6

The Blue Devils captured the District 14-AA title with a 14-6 victory over scrappy Immokalee on the Indians field.

After a scoreless first quarter, Pahokee took the ball and put together a 90-yard drive. Charlie McKelton capped the drive by scoring from four yards out. Miller ran for the two-point conversion.

Pahokee 27-Jupiter 0

Freshman quarterback Ronnie Osbourne threw two touchdowns passes and Leroy Jackson rushed for 129 yards on 10 carries as the Blue Devils shut out visiting Jupiter.

Jackson scored the first touchdown on a 52-yard run. The extra point kick failed. Ricky Jackson grabbed a 22-yard extra pass from Osbourne in the second quarter and Miller ran for the two-point conversion to give the home team a 14-0 lead at the half.

Jackson caught a four-yard touchdown pass from Osbourne in the third quarter to make the score 21-0 following Miller's extra kick.

James Burroughs picked up a Jupiter fumble on the Devils six-yard line and rammed 94 yards for the final touchdown.

Pahokee 44-LaBelle 12

Senior tailback Ted Miller scored 16 points and rushed for 217 yards on 20 carries and Charlie McKelton scored two touchdowns and ran for 94 yards in the lopsided victory.

After the Cowboys tied the score at 6-6 in the first quarter, the Blue Devils' Leroy Jackson returned the ensuing kickoff for a score. Ricky Jackson ed a punt at LaBelle territory. Remoise Johnson picked the ball ran six yards and score giving P a 22-6 halftime.

Pahokee 17-Glades Central 0

The Blue Devils lived up to their number one state ranking in blanking neighborhood-rival Glades Central.

Pahokee's defense held the Raiders twice inside its own 10-yard line in the final regular season game for both teams.

The Devils could only manage a 25-yard field goal by Ted Miller in the first half.

Defensive tackle Carl Boldin recovered a GCHS fumble on the Raiders' eight-yard line in the third quarter which set up the Devils first touchdown. McKelton scored from three yards out and also scored the two-point conversion giving PHS an 11-0 lead.

Leroy Jackson scored the final touchdown on a 13-yard run.

ed the final touchdown on a one-yard plunge.

Pahokee 28-Melbourne Central Catholic 7

The Blue Devils had relatively little trouble disposing of Melbourne Central Catholic in the first round of the state playoffs.

Pahokee drove 94 yards in five plays to score with 8:41 remaining in the first quarter. Senior Ted Miller scored on a 35-yard run. Miller racked up 135 yards rushing for the game.

The Blue Devils added two scores in the second quarter. A 40-yard pass from Osbourne to Ricky Jackson was good for one score and Leroy Jackson's 21-yard off-tackle run gave the visitors a 21-0 halftime lead.

Osbourne scored the final touchdown on a two-yard run.

Pahokee 42-Miami LaSalle 0

The Blue Devils crushed LaSalle to move into the Class 1A title game.

AA semi-finals.

Pahokee rolled up an incredible 565 total yards, 340 on the ground and 165 in the air.

Only four minutes had elapsed in the opening quarter when Osbourne went into the end zone from a yard out and Miller added the extra point. Five minutes later McKelton scored on a 12-yard run following the recovery of a LaSalle fumble. Osbourne scored the third touchdown and Leroy Love blocked a Royals punt out of the end zone to give the awesome Devils a 23-0 halftime edge.

The other Pahokee scores came on Darrrell Smith's three-yard run with a fumble recovery; reserve quarterback Joe Freeman 64-yard touchdown romp; and a 66-yard scamper with a fumbled lateral by Michael Osbourne.

Palmetto 7-Pahokee 6

The Blue Devils offense sputtered which eliminated any hopes the local team had of a state championship in 1975.

Pahokee's only score was set up when linebacker Bernard Murvin recovered a fumble at the Palmetto four. Two plays later McKelton went off-tackle for the score. Miller's extra point attempt was wide.

Glades Central Seeks Leadership In 1976

With a 5-5 record in 1975, Glades Central suffered through one of its worst seasons ever and Raider head coach Willie McDonald knows what the problem was. "We lacked leadership last year," McDonald said.

"You've got to have discipline both on and off the field in order to be successful," the coach said.

McDonald is serious about the Raiders becoming a disciplined team this season. He has already prohibited three players from coming out for this year's team.

If the pre-season drills are any indication of what the season will be like GCHS will have leadership, according to McDonald. "The varsity kids are showing leadership and are working hard now," he said. "Both the seniors and the underclassmen are becoming more self-disciplined."

McDonald is counting heavily on the Raiders defense, which he describes as "physical and aggressive." "We have the defense to make things happen for us," McDonald said. Out linemen our quick and agile and will pursue all over the field."

Anchoring the defensive line will be junior tackle Leroy Jenkins (6'3", 238). Senior Kenneth Fitzpatrick (5'11", 170) will man the other tackle slot. The nose guard will be Anthony Jones (6'0", 180). Juniors Barney Mason (6'2", 210) and Eric Beckford (6'2", 200) are the defensive ends. Don Andrews, a (6' 0", 195) pound junior will also see action.

Phillip Stinson will head the Raiders line-backing corps. The 5'9", 165 pounder is a "headknocker" and is quick, according to McDonald. Stinson runs the 40-yard dash in 4.6 seconds. The Coach said that four other players will play in the middle for Glades Central. They include Rufus Washington (5'9", 170), Claude Brown (5'9½", 170), Eugene Johnson (6'0", 180) and Jimmy Clark (5'10", 170).

The defensive backfield will have Alford Rennard (5'8", 165) at safety. Rennard has 4.6 speed in the 40. Senior Cephas Knowles (5'10", 165) will play safety along with junior Jeff Singletary (5'10", 165) and junior Joseph Bryd (5'10", 170). Senior Kenneth Funderburk (6'1", 185) and Kenneth Henderson (5'11", 189) will man the corner-back spots. Funderburk is the Raiders punter and Henderson will see action at fullback.

McDonald says his defense has "good size" and he is thankful for that. "When we played Martin County last year, they got down to our three-yard line. We stacked the line and had almost 1,500 pound up front and pushed them back to the 12," the coach said.

The head coach is worried about his line-backers though. "We're inexperienced and have only two veterans returning there," he said.

McDonald said the Raiders will be basically a running team this season. "We'll try to mix it up, he added. "But our ball club will run about 75 percent of the time and throw 25 percent."

Glades Central has a host of running backs. Hard-working Sylvester Knowles (5'10", 180) and Henderson will play at fullback. Senior Eli Martin (5'11", 185) and junior David Robinson (5'10", 180) are working at tailback. Senior Timothy Fordham (5'11", 180) and juniors Jeffrey Henry (5'6", 150) and Ernest Byrd (5'9", 165) are the wingbacks.

A senior and two juniors are competing for the quarterback spot. Harvey McGriff (5'11", 170) is the veteran and the juniors are Edgar Arnette (6'1½", 165) and David Jones (6'2", 155). According to McDonald, McGriff can "take charge" of the team, but Arnette and Jones are the better passers.

The offensive line will have senior Barry Carrigan (5'11", 219) and junior Jose Rodriguez (6'1½", 250) at the tackles. Henry Thomas (6'0", 180) is the center. Senior Raul Gomez (5'10", 190) is the veteran, but has been hobbled by knee injury he suffered last spring. Four players are fighting it out for the two guard spots. Junior Tim Ingran (5'11", 175) is the quickest of the guards with 4.7 speed in the 40. Junior Dudley Stokes (5'9", 165) senior Frank Freeman (6'0", 210) and Rufus Washington are the other guards. Senior Anthony Seymour (6'1", 190) and junior Rufus Chambers (6'3", 180) will play tight end. Don Andrews will see some action there too.

Junior Ollie Shepard (5'10", 170) is the Raider split end.

McDonald says Glades Central's strengths are its running backs, ends and the defense. The key weakness are the linebackers. The coach said that McGriff has a weak throwing arm. "He doesn't throw the ball as well as I'd like him to," McDonald said.

But leadership is still the big problem. "If we can continue to get the leadership and the kids will help each other and work together, we'll have a successful season," McDonald said. "I would like to see us get in the playoffs."

The Year In Review: A 'So-so' season for Raiders

1975 was an "off" year at Glades Central High School, at least as far as the Raiders football team was concerned. Although GCHS faced a tough schedule, the Raiders could never quite put things together and ended up with a 5-5 record. Here is the way the season went:

Raiders 39 - North Shore 0
Glades Central breezed in its opening game of the season. Eli Martin scored three touchdowns on runs of 44 and 24 yards and a 53-yard pass play. Howard Moses added two scores, one on a three-yard run and the other an 18-yard gallop. David Philpott scored the final touchdown on a one-yard plunge. David Kinlaw added two extra points and Joe Zawadzki had one point-after-touchdown.

Atlantic 20 - Raiders 7
Mistakes proved costly as Glades Central ran into a bunch of tough Eagles. Atlantic took advantage of high winds and a sort Raider punt to score at the 3:45 mark in the first quarter. After GCHS received the kick-off, Atlantic forced a fumble and went on to score its second touchdown and take a 14-0 first quarter lead.

In the second quarter Atlantic blocked a Raider pun and took over at Glades Central's four-yard line and eventually scored to give the home team a 20-0 halftime edge.

The visitors finally got on the scoreboard in the third quarter after Ernest Jackson recovered an Atlantic fumble at the Atlantic 32-yard line. Several plays later Johnny Rutledge scored from a yard out. David Kinlaw's extra point attempt was good making the score 20-7. Another Raider threat was broken up with 4:52 left in the game when a pass from Rutledge to Anthony Burger was intercepted at the Atlantic 20-yard line.

Miami Killian 12 - Raiders 0
GCHS suffered its second straight loss as the local team fumbled the ball twice inside Killian's 10-yard line.

Burger to William Rutledge then fumble on a quarterback bootie on the next play.

The Miami Team in the second quarter the halftime score was 6-0.

Glades Central three in the final quarter, but a penalty, two incomplete and a two-yard loss on a play made the Raiders up the ball inside the Killian 0.

Killian took over and the length of the field and scored on 15-yard quarterback bootie. The extra point attempt was blocked making the final score 12-0 and giving the Raiders a 1-2 record.

Raiders 13-Cardinal Newman 6

A fourth quarter interception by Glades Central's Phillip Stinson boosted the Raiders to their second victory of the season.

With the score tied 6-6 in the final period, Newman punter Dave May had trouble fielding a high center snap, scrambled to his right and threw a desperation pass which Stinson picked off. Stinson ran the ball back to the Crusader 21-yard line. Three plays later, Nathaniel Howard scored from the one. David Kinlaw added the extra point.

Newman scored first in the opening quarter as the Crusaders recover a GCHS fumble at the Raider 28. The extra point attempt failed giving Newman a 6-0 lead.

Glades Central took the ensuing kickoff with Eli Martin returning 36 yards to the Cardinal Newman 45-yard line. Four plays later Rutledge scored from two yards out. Kinlaw's kick and the score was knotted at 6-6.

Raiders 7-St. Pete Catholic 0

Both teams defenses dominated in the first half with the score tied 0-0 at the end of the first two quarters of play. Glades Central took the second half kickoff and controlled the ball for nine minutes. Howard Moses scored the only touchdown of the game on a two-yard run. Kinlaw added the extra point as the Raiders chalked up their second win in four outings.

Raiders 13 - Key West 7

Johnny Rutledge connected with Anthony Burger on a 95-yard pass play with 30 seconds remaining to lift the Raiders to their victory of 1975.

The two teams played a scoreless first half. The Conchs recovered an on-sides kick to open the second half and took advantage of two consecutive 15-yard penalties against GCHS. Key West scored on a 12-yard run and added the extra point to take a 7-0 lead in the third quarter.

Glades Central scored early in the fourth quarter as Eli Martin romped 46 yards for the tying score. The extra point kick would have tied the game, but Raider kicker David Kinlaw had been thrown out of the game. GCHS head coach Willie McDonald elected to go for two points, but the Raiders failed on the attempt.

After exchanging punts, the Conchs punted to the Raiders one-foot line setting up the last minute heroics by Rutledge and Anthony Burger.

Suncoast 28-Raiders 37

Glades Central had its final opportunity to play in overtime and the experience was unpleasant, to say the least.

Suncoast scored the winning point as it was able to penetrate further into Raider territory, GCHS had its best offensive showing of the year.

Martin opened up the scoring for Glades Central with a 16-yard run in the first quarter and made the score 13-7. GCHS added seven more points on Martin's six yard sweep and Zawadzki's kick. Suncoast returned the ensuing kickoff 74 yards for a touchdown to close the gap to 20-14. The Raiders scored again in the fourth quarter and increased their lead to 27-14. The Chargers didn't give up and scored two more times, the final touchdown coming with less than two minutes in regulation time.

Raiders 21-Martin County 10

Led by Anthony Burger's two touchdowns, on an 87 yard kickoff return, Glades Central chalked up victory number five.

The Raiders scored twice in the fourth quarter as Rutledge teamed up with Burger on a 66-yard play and Nathaniel Howard scored from two yards out.

Miami Palmetto 20-Glades 0

The Raiders couldn't get untracked offensively as their record slipped to 5-4.

Palmetto scored in the first half to make the score 6-0 at the half. The Panthers added a touchdown in both the third and fourth quarters.

Pahokee 17-Raiders 0

Glades Central lost two fumbles and the Blue Devils turned both into scores as Pahokee sent the Raiders to their second straight shutout loss.

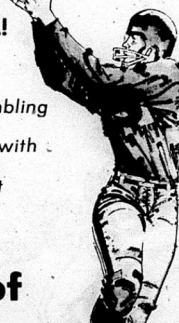

The game was a defensive struggle in the first half. The half ended as Ted Miller kicked a field goal for Pahokee which gave the Devils a 3-0 lead. Pahokee scored two touchdowns in the second half to gain the victory.

The Year in Review...Gators have best season in history

Coming from a disappointing 2-7 season the year before, Glades Day's football Gators turned things around in 1975 and had their best season in the three years since the school began playing varsity football. The Gators district and regional champions, 9-3 record and were defeated by St. Petersburg Shorecrest in the sectional finals.

Here is a brief review of the 1975 season.

Bishop Verot 15-Gators 6

Verot took advantage of two Glades Day mistakes for the victory. The first "had break" came in the first quarter when the Gators had held the Class AA Vikings inside the Glades Day five-yard line. But the Gators fumbled on their second play and Bishop Verot took over at the two. Verot scored and kicked the extra point.

In the second half a Gator defensive back slipped and fell as the visitors completed a pass for a touchdown. The two-point conversion was good.

Mitch Crissman scored Glades Day's only touchdown.

Gators 28-King's Academy 0

Fullback Thompson scored two touchdowns to lead the Gators to the shutout victory. Halfbacks Julio Sanchez and Keith Thompson also scored as Glades Day rushed for a total of 311 yards.

Mitch Crissman picked up 110 yards rushing for the game. Ken Bartmeier, Bill Thompson and tackles Charles Matthews and David Teets led the defensive charge for the winners.

Gators 54-St. Edwards 0

Glades Day got its offense in gear as seven players scored touchdowns for Gators.

Fullback Danny Kirchman led the on-slaught scoring two more touchdowns. The other scores came from Alphonso Alvarez on an 80-yard run back of the second half kickoff, a 50-yard pass from Tommy Duda to Brandon Markham, and runs by Larry Fowler, Crissman and Bill Thompson.

The Gators amassed 445 yards total offense and held St. Edwards to a minus 30.

Jupiter 36-Warriors 13

Down by only 14-13 at halftime, the Gators gave up three second-half touchdowns in losing to the Class AA Warriors.

Mitch Crissman scored on a 35-yard touchdown run and Bill Thompson scored on a three-yard run for Glades Day. Julio Sanchez added an extra point.

Jupiter's first half touchdowns were set by two blocked Gator punts.

Gators 34-Classroom 0

Glades Day recorded its third shutout of the season limiting The Classroom to a 1-yard total offense.

Sophomore quarterback Tommy Dudax and halfback Julio Sanchez scored two touchdowns each. Halfback Mitch Crissman also added two scores. Quique Echave and Keith Williams both scored a touchdown for the Gators.

Sanchez racked up 112 yards rushing in the game.

Gators 13-Marathon 0

Glades Day racked up 399 yards in total offense in the Homecoming victory.

Quarterback Tommy Duda and fullback Bill Thompson provided the offensive punch for the winners. Duda connected on three of five passes, including a 50-yarder to wide receiver Brandon Markham. Curt Thompson led the defense with five tackles and four assists.

Mike Penuel made five tackles and assisted on three others.

Gators 9-Moore Haven 0

Glades Day posted its fifth shutout of the season in a 9-0 victory over Moore Haven which gave the Gators the district 13 A title.

The Gators got a ed three touchdowns to lead the Gators. Crissman carried the ball only five times, but gained 157 yards on the ground. Dick Crockett also scored for the Gators on a pass from quarterback Tommy Duda.

Gators 45-Florida Air 6

Bill Thompson scored two touchdowns and Mitch Crissman, Brandon Markham and Tommy Duda added one of each as the Gators routed the break early in the game when the center's snap sailed over the head of the Moore Haven punter and out of the end zone for an automatic safety. The other score came on a 37-yard pass from Tommy Duda to Brandon Markham. Julio Sanchez kicked the extra point.

Mitch Crissman was the leading rusher with 106 yards.
